Raise your voice in song as Revels waves goodbye to summer and welcomes in the fall at the 16th annual Revels RiverSing at the Herter Park Amphitheater in Allston!

Led by Revels music director Megan Henderson, the event features over 100 performers including Noel Paul Stookey of Peter, Paul and Mary fame. Additional participants include song leaders and soloists Janice Allen and David Coffin, The RiverSing Chorus, Revels Youth Alumni and Children's Chorus, the Brazilian percussion ensemble Marcos Santos and aNova Brazil, The Pinewoods Morris Men, The Boston City Singers - and YOU! Bring your best voices. Song sheets will be available on site so we can all sing along!

Stookey, who first participated in Revels RiverSing in 2013, explains his return: "Modern life tends to separate us from one another. Yet nowhere is the strength of diversity expressed more completely than when our voices come together in song. I am inspired by Revels' reminder of our commonality and delighted to celebrate again this year the gifts of nature and community at RiverSing."

TIMELINE: Family Activities in Herter Park begin at 5:00 pm followed by a puppet-filled "Parade to the Amp" that all can join! (Puppets provided by the Puppeteers Cooperative); Singing in the Amphitheater starts at 6:00 pm sharp.

Begun as a partnership with the Charles River Conservancy in 2004, Revels RiverSing is a participatory music event filled with music, magic and songs celebrating the season and the splendor of the Charles River and its parklands. While puppets and whimsy may abound, the heart of RiverSing is the communal singing and there will be lots of that!
